What is The PLACE?
The PLACE helps youth in homelessness or who are at high risk of becoming homeless. We offer shelter, outreach, housing, and the support youth need to get off the street and begin building their future. At The PLACE, youth find skills, support, and insight that allow them to get off the streets and get into stable housing. Here is how our programs work:

• Every day of the year, The PLACE Shelter is a warm, safe alternative to a night on the streets. Our 20-bed facility is the only licensed youth shelter in the Colorado Springs region. At the shelter we serve youth ages 15-20 by providing meals, clothing, case management and mental and physical healthcare.

• Education and Employment Services support youth in earning their GED, re-engaging in high school classes, assisting in accessing college, as well as linking youth to important job skills and opportunities to prepare for the next phase of their lives.

• Street Outreach brings case management to the streets, connecting young people with resources and providing key necessities – from clean socks to water to housing – that make a big difference in the life of a young person experiencing homelessness.

• Case Managers help youth experiencing homelessness identify their strengths, create a plan for exiting homelessness, and access resources that build stability.

• Supportive Housing supports youth ages 18-24 with individualized housing and case management while they build towards a life of self-sufficiency and a brighter future.

Tips for Inviting Guests

- Take some time to learn more about The PLACE to help you in sharing our mission. This packet contains useful information for you to use to spread the word about our important work. You are welcome to call Nastassia at (706) 505-0349 with any questions you may have!

- Let people know your personal connection to The PLACE. Your story often means as much to your friends and colleagues as it means to you. If you do not have a story, we will share success stories with you.

- Add a sentence about The PLACE and the Breakfast to your email signature to educate and remind the people you are often in contact with about the event.

- Be up front with everyone that this event is a fundraiser. There is no ticket price to attend the Breakfast, but we will ask for a meaningful contribution at the event.

- Write personal notes to your invitees and confirmed guests. This is a great way to connect your name with the organization’s materials. People are usually much more responsive to a person than they are to an organization.

- Use the template emails provided on the following pages and tweak them to fit your personality. There will be multiple emails for you to use to: (a) invite your guests; (b) send a Save the Date; (c) follow up for RSVP after the invitations have been mailed; and (d) remind guests the day before the event.

- It is especially important to follow up with people you do not hear back from. Just because they do not follow up with you does not mean they are not interested in joining you. People get busy and forget to RSVP even though they have every intention of attending the event. Be the squeaky wheel!

INVITING GUESTS:

I am writing today to invite you to an important event for an organization that means a lot to me. This event is for The PLACE. I have been [supporting/involved with The PLACE for _____ years].

The PLACE is a local organization working with youth in homelessness. They provide shelter, education and employment assistance, health services, outreach, and housing programs, to name just a few of their services.

GUESTS WHO CANNOT ATTEND:

I am sorry that you will not be able to join me for The PLACE’s Off the Street Breakfast. In lieu of attending the event, I hope you will consider getting involved by considering making a gift to The PLACE that will fund their programs, which support youth in homelessness. You can donate online at https://theplacecos.org/off-the-street-2022/ or you can email andy.petersen@theplacecos.org to arrange a conversation about how you would like to make a difference!

The PLACE provides wraparound services specifically designed to meet the developmental needs of youth and prepare them to leave the dangers of street life, reunite with their families, and take steps toward self-sufficiency.

Although The PLACE provides shelter for 20 youth, we support many more youth – 670 last fiscal year – with food, medical needs, employment counseling and rent assistance for those on the journey of independence who need a bit more help along the way. Our region is lucky to have such a wonderful organization right here in Colorado Springs!

AFTER THE BREAKFAST:

Hello!
It was great seeing you today! Thank you for joining me this morning to attend The PLACE’s breakfast. With your help, the breakfast raised $XXXXXXXX for youth!
